NORTH PLATTE BIDS $330 FOR TWO POUNDS OF WOOL.

Thirty-three business men of North Platte decided Saturday they would each contribute $10 for the thirty-two ounces of wool from the White House sheep donated by President and Mrs. Wilson for the benefit of the Red Cross of Nebraska. After the $330 had been subscribed, E. J. VanDerhoof wired the message into Governor Neville.

Referring to the message the Sunday State Journal said: While the bidding on Saturday closed with the city of North Platte in the lead, the auction sale of the wool has not closed. It will remain open for bids during Monday and will close at midnight of that day.

All day Monday the people of the state and the communities thereof will have a chance to talk it over and decide whether or not they ought to open their purse strings wider or the Red Cross, or whether they are to sit down and admit that a little combination of thirty-three men in North Platte, with $10 apiece, are to be allowed to walk off with the wool and in addition a nice little letter which will be signed by President and Mrs. Wilson, not to speak of the great credit they will receive for being the most liber people in Nebraska when it comes to a cause of humanity.

Shall North Platte walk off with this prize? This is the question which citizens the state everywhere may discuss at their leisure Sunday and Monday. It is predicted that North Platte people will have to come across with a much higher bid before the sun goes down Monday evening. They may have to sit up until midnight if they care to stay in the game, because it promises to be a hot and furious contest. It will be no game for pikers.

Carl Nelson, who lives in Wild Horse valley, north of Brady, spent yesterday in town and reported a very destructive hail storm in his section Saturday night. The storm covered an area five miles wide and many miles north and south. Fall wheat was totally destroyed, and spring wheat, not so far advanced, was badly damaged. A heavy wind accompanied the hail which blew down outbuildings and windmills.

A majority of those who will take part in the Home Guards minstrel show met in the Elks' hall Sunday afternoon and tried out the musical numbers. The songs are pippins, full of melody and jingle and the singers took up the music with much pep. Another rehearsal will be held at the same place tomorrow evening and the management insists that all those who have signified their intention of taking part in the show be present.

HAIL DAMAGES CROPS IN SECTION OF COUNTY.

Hailstorms occurred in several parts of the county Saturday night about one o'clock, and in some sections destroyed or badly damaged fall wheat. In this city the hail fell until the ground was white, but the stones were not of such size as to do much damage to growing vegetation.

On Jack Morrow flats the hail did considerable damage to fall grain, a large number of farmers in that section reporting that wheat had been cut, bruised and beaten flat to the ground.

North of Brady the hail was very destructive, hundreds of acres of wheat being totally destroyed. Farmer there will plow up the damaged wheat and plant corn.

"Only a Volunteer."
(The Tribune has received the following with the compliments of the non-commissioned officers of Company E, 134th Infantry, who have been at Camp Cody since early last fall.)

Why didn't I wait to be drafted
And led to the train by a Band?
Or put in a claim for exemption;
Oh, why did I hold up my hand?
Why didn't I wait or the Banquet
Why didn't I wait to be cheered?
For the drafted receive all the credit,
While I only volunteered.

There was no one to give me a Banquet
Not a soul to say a kind word;
The puff of the engine, the grind of the wheels,
Was the only good-bye I heard.

Then off to the training camp hustled,
To be trained for almost a year,
In the shuffle abandoned, forgotten,
I was only a volunteer.

And now they send troops to Europe
To fight for your Uncle Sam;
So I thought 'twas my chance to fight in France
But they sent the drafted man.

Now they're going to train some more,
That's why they're keeping us here;
It's tough-luck I've got to admit it,
To be only a volunteer.

Perhaps some day in the future
When my little boy sits on my knee;
And his big eyes look up at me,
I'll have to look down into those eyes,
That at me so trustingly peer,
And tell him I wasn't drafted,
I was only a volunteer.

Harry Cramer will in the immediate future move his Fourth street house to a site on west Fifth, and will within the next year build a new home on the vacated lot.

Miss Gertrude Rebhausen, who is attending a conservatory of music in Chicago, won signal honor last week when she received first credit in the excellent piano class in the examinations. Miss Rebhausen who has been in Chicago for a year will return home about June 25th.
